How do I log in to Fronter and choose the right course room to see useful information?

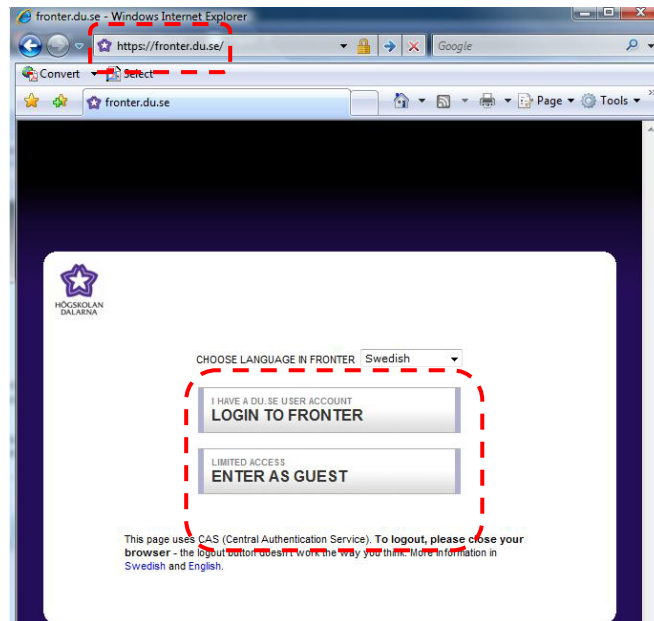

Go to <https://fronter.du.se> or www.du.se to log in to Fronter. Log in with your username and password. Type in your username and password (your username is the same as your email address, but without @du.se. For example, if your email is h07ansve@du.se, your username is h07ansve).

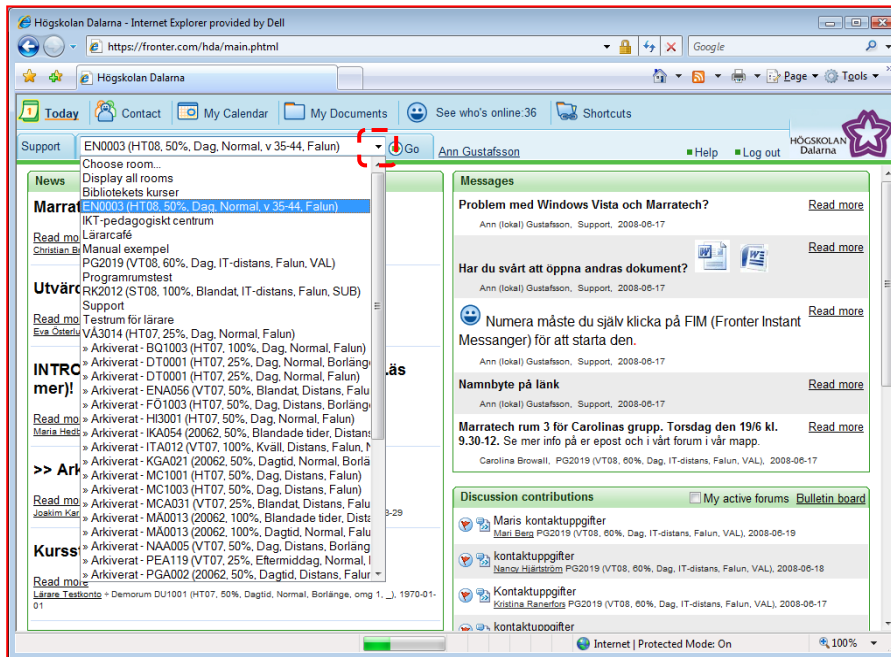

Remember to choose English as Language and then click “Login”.

If you do not have a user account or if your course room do not appear after logging in make sure that you are registered. You register at “My Pages” on www.du.se (it can take up to 24 hours for a newly created account to become available in Fronter), or contact your course administrator or the course coordinator. You can sign in to Fronter as a guest by clicking “Login as a guest” (leave username and password blank).

When you have sign in to Fronter you will first come to your personal room. This room is called the Today page. Here you will find messages for all courses that you are a participant in. Choose the course room you want to access in the drop-down menu by clicking on the small arrow marked below. When the drop-down menu appears, use the scroll bar to find the course code you are looking for. When you find the code you are looking for, click on it, and the course room will appear. If you are logged in as a guest, Fronter will list all course rooms.

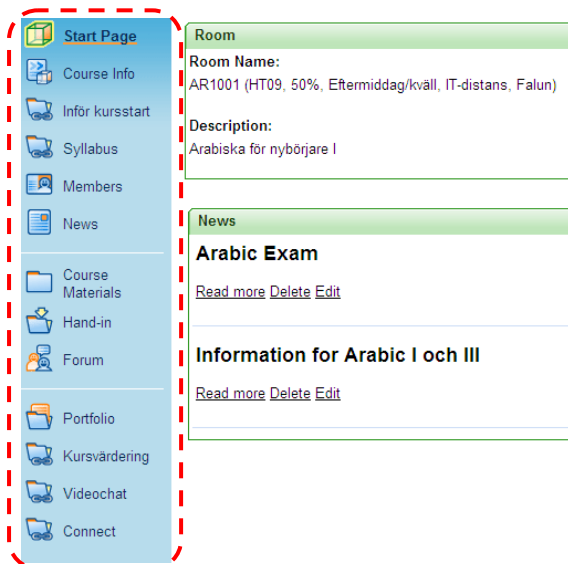

After you have opened the Fronter room for your course, the room appears. This example shows course room EN0003(HT08, 50%, Dag, Normal).

Here, you can for example see the “News” and “Messages” for the course, note that only the headlines are shown in the news column. You need to click on “Read More” to see the whole news item:
